SmartCEO READERS PICK THE REGION'S TOP ACCOUNTANTS

Every CEO has his or her team of trusted advisers, the go-to folks for every business need you can think of. Leading the charge is often the CPA, involved in everything from accounting and tax preparation to M&A and general business consulting.

These CPA superstars have the traits necessary for success, for themselves and for those they advise: an ethical foundation, attention to detail and a rational, objective point of view in advising their clients. And once our readers find a CPA who clicks for their company, they often stay with them for years – and even decades – to come.

The SmartCPA Readers' Choice section recognizes MVPs in the Greater Baltimore CPA world. These advisers with a knack for numbers have made huge impacts, not only on their own industry but in the lives of the region's top business executives, by helping them grow their companies year after year.
